Hunts in Dinwiddie County.

Should the weather permit a live tox hunt will be started in Dinwiddie county to morrow morning, under the auspices of the Riverside Hunt Club's fine pack of hounds will join, under the management of James Jones, M. F. H. A number of fox-hunters in this city and vicinity will participate in the chase, and as foxes are numerous in the county an enjoyable hunt is anticipated. Other hunts will follow next week.

Weekly drag hunts are held by the Riverside Club, in which ladies and gentlemen participate, and take exhilarating rides and jumps. The lady riders in Wednesday's hunt were Miss Fraley, of Plainfield, N. J., and Mrs. M. C. Jackson, of this city. The run was about six miles.

Snow fell lightly here this afternoon, but was quickly succeeded by a cold-drizzing rain.

the results will be known by 8 o'clock.

Many Forces at Work.

The Anti-Saloon League has conducted the entire campaign for the "dry" forces, and an organization known as the "Business Men's League" had full charge of the "wet" end of the fight for the saloon started off with a "still hunt." The Anti-Saloon League began with a series of addresses in many of the churches. Local pastors assisted Rev. J. H. Mc-Alister, field secretary of the State League, and Professor J. A. Tate, of Harriman, Tenn. Then came Evangelist M. F. Ham, of Kentucky, who aroused much interest and not a little indignation by some of his statements. The Business Men's League then held a rally at the Academy of Music, at which Messrs. J. T. Coleman and Randolph, both brilliant and influential lawyers of the city, spoke. Then came D. M. Smith, a Louisville, Ky., attorney, and Norman Johnson, editor of the Merchants' Journal and Commerce, of Charlotte, N. C., and lastly Clarence Darrow, a noted Chicago attorney.

Governor R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina; Mrs. Nannie Curtis, of Texas, and Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, completed the galaxy of orators for the anti-saloon forces.

The election will leave the city with much bitterness among its residents, and it is possible that the day will see the most exciting election-day scenes since the local option held twenty years or more ago, when years were required to heal many sores that were started by that fierce fight.

Many Yoters Elimbasted.

by that fierce fight.

Many Voters Ellmknated.

The feature of to-day relative to tomorrow's election was the decision of the election judges at a conference to permit only voters qualified to vote in the November election to participate in the election to-morrow. This eliminates about 500 voters who have registered since November 3d. The conference was called by the Electoral Commission, and it was decided to conduct the election under the ward law, which is being attacked now in the State Supreme Court of Appeals as to its constitutionality.

The saloon-keepers sprung a surprise on the city to-day by closing simultaneously at noon. The saloons were closed and placarded that they would not open until Monday morning without previous notice, and no reason has been assigned for the step.

Followers of the "prophet" in this section some time ago besieged the courty clerk's office with applications for licenses permitting men to remary their lawful wives, saying this was done by order of their "prophet." The premits were not issued, though there is no legal punishment for remarriage among the same principals.

Eczema Began When a Tiny Baby and Lasted 7 Years—Tore Crusts from Face Till It was All Raw— Screamed with Pain and Could not Sleep—Though Specialists Failed

CUTICURA EFFECTED * A WONDERFUL CURE

"When my little boy was six weeks old an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor and got ointments and medicines but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He soratched day and night until his face sometimes looked like a raw piece of meat. I was nearly insane with his scratching day and night. Then I took him to all the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. He sometimes screamed with pain when I put on the salve they gave me. "When he was two years old the eczema got on his arms and legs so that I had to keep them bandaged up and I made gloves for his hands so the nails could not poison him worse. We could not get a night's sleep in months and my husband and I were all broken up. Then my mother asked why I did not give up the doctors and try Cuticura. So I got a set and he felt relieved the first time I used them, the Cuticura Ointment felt so cool. He used to wake up and ask for Cuticura to be put on when he itched so badly that he could not sleep, and he would say, 'Ohl Mama, that makes my sores feel so good!' I gave the Outicura Remedies a good trial and gradually the eczema healed all up and now he is as well as any other children. He is now seven years old and the cure has lasted two months, so I think it will never return. I can't tell you how glad I am that Guticura did such wonderful work in our case and I shall recommend it everywhere. Mrs. John G. Klumpp, 80 Miagara St. Newark, N. J., Ot. 17 and 22, 1907."

SUFFOLK, VA., December 4.—It 's understood here to-day that the State during the preliminary murder trial of Sam Hardy did not disclose the full strength of its hand, but introduced only enough evidence to insure the case being cited to the grand jury. The prosecution seemingly felt confident that Hardy would be held for Circuit Court, and after evidence was in agreed to make argument only after the defense had refused to submit the case without pleas by attorneys. Hardy's lawyers say he cannot be sent to the chair on evidence thus far brought out. Judge Rawles, of defense's counsel, stated to-night that they still expect to seek bail, though he could not say when.
